Cathy Chesnut

Cathy, a knitter since childhood, is beloved for teaching knitting classes locally. She is voracious in learning new techniques and being able to translate them to students in her classes.

"One of the best teachers around, who knows the art of "teaching" a class and is so generous with her experience, kindness and talent". Michelle S.

"She is sweet, so patient, yet gently insistent that the knitter will get the technique eventually." Susan F.

Cathy is our main pattern designer with 40 years of garment fitting experience. She is the creator of our Simple Faroese Shawl.

Susan Sarabasha

Susan has been knitting for as long as she can remember. Once she was introduced to Elizabeth Zimmerman's ideas she began to creatively alter almost every pattern she knit. By the Yarn Harlot's definition, she is one of those knitters who loves each and every pattern but just tweaks them a bit to suit her inner self.

Susan taught math to middle schoolers for 22 years. Her chair said she was "The only global visual math teacher I have ever met."

She has also been teaching art workshops to adults for over 30 years. More recently she branched out into spindle and spinning classes and has even successfully taught a couple of novices through email and the phone!
